Oregon's largest commercially produced Christmas tree. Fast growing, fragrant. Also the primary timber specie. A large selection of seed lots and formats is offered. The 5 cu inch plugs are long and cigar shaped, suitable for field planting where competition isn't heavy. The 4 cubic inch plugs are short, fat and egg shaped, usually transplanted for P-1.

Hortisorb / Diehard Dry root dip containing Hortisorb Root Gel with root stimulating mycorrhizae. The gel provides new roots access to water during dry periods and the inoculant contains highly selected strains of endo- and ectomycorrhizae fungi. These quickly colonize the roots of new transplants to provide the best possible conditions for the roots to become mycorrhizal during the establishment period and beyond. The mycorrhizal inoculants are combined with humic acids, biostimulants, beneficial bacteria, soluble sea kelp, yucca plant extracts and organic soil conditioners to promote rapid root development.	.25 lb	.5 lb	1 lb	4 lb	10 lbs
